COUNTY CULLINGS,

MT. PLEASANT.

Mr. Pleasant, May 16.—Rev. J. H. Morrison, of Franklin, is assisting Rev. S. J. Foster, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in a series of interesting meetings. Mr. Morrison visited our town two years ago and sowed seeds in the hearts of his hearers, that have yielded great results. His eloquence, ability, ripe scholarship and Christian influence are known and felt by all who have ever heard him. Some strong sermons are being preached and we trust that the fruits of the work will be an hundred fold.

Rev. W. H. Doss returned from Palestine Saturday, where he had been for several days assisting in a revival of religion.

Rev. J. W. Hunter, of Nashville, preached an appreciative sermon from the M. E. pulpit on last Sabbath.

Owing to the variety of entertainments in town on last Friday night, Mr. Van Pion Lee's audience was not as large as had been hoped. A good many churchgoers went to hear Mr. Morrison preach, and a "one horse circus," that an ill wind blew this way, attracted a goodly number that were not seeking for anything but a good time. It was unfortunate that he came just at that time, but his lecture was full of interest and instruction notwithstanding, and he promises to come at some more opportune time.

Mr. Will Kirtland and newly made wife have returned to Franklin after a short visit to relatives here.

Miss Bettie Gray, of Lawrenceburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Newt Pickard.

Mr. P. Brownlow, wife and daughter, attended the Baptist Convention in Nashville, last week.

Mrs. W. V. Wilson, who has been unable to leave her room for some time we are glad to report as better.

Miss Mary Hill of Lipscomb, is visiting Mr. T. H. Howard's family and attending the meeting.

Mr. G. L. Lewis, who has been absent from home for about six years, is back on a visit. He says he feels like he has been indulging in a "R. P. Van Winkle" sleep; the town has improved, children have gotten to be "grown up" folks and all things bear the marks of change. He is undecided as to whether he will again return to Kansas City or not.

Miss Edna Roth is "visiting" at home this week under a protracted stay with Mrs. Edmond Hughes, in the "West of Maury."

Mr. W. C. Belger came out from Franklin Sunday and spent the day with us, but we promise not to tell.

Rev. W. B. Lowry is at home now, but will "take the roof" again Friday.

CRAWFORD HOLLOW.

CRAWFORD HOLLOW, May 15.—Once more I find myself trying to give what few items I have gathered for your ever welcome paper.

The health of this neighborhood is very good at this writing.

A great many of the farmers are having to plant their corn over, on account of the outcrop and late season.

Misses Gerrie Craig and Maggie Kirkpatrick spent one night last week with Miss Ora Allen, of Bear Creek.

We are sorry to say Miss Mattie Hardison is confined to her bed with fever, and Mrs. D. K. Minor is very sick.

Mr. Willis Jones, of your city, spent last Friday night with W. R. Atkinson at this place.

Mrs. Paggie Dyre, Mrs. Maggie Johnson and Mrs. Mollie Craig spent one day last week with Mrs. Henry Kirkpatrick near here.

Mr. N. N. Nicholson and Miss Laura Sanders passed through our burg one day last week.

Misses Floy and Mamie Atkinson and C. and Edwards, of Rock Spring, spent last Saturday night week with their grandparents at this place.

Mr. Robert and John Craig, of Leitch, spent one night last week with their uncle W. J. Craig near here.

Mr. Pless Doss was in Columbia last Saturday on business.

Ask Maggie Kirkpatrick how she likes to now peppered on Saturday.

As news is scarce I will close with best wishes to the HERALD.

Second National Stockholders.

The list of stockholders of the Second National Bank, as published in the current yesterday morning, is very incorrect. The list was copied from the city tax books, and was given to the Assessor by Mr. Childress, the Cashier, and the HERALD had copied the same list and had it in type, but learning that it was not correct, we leave it out. If we can obtain a correct list we will publish it next week. Among the errors we have been informed of, are the names of Hughes & Hatcher, John Moors, Jr., and R. W. Watkins. None of these are stockholders.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

ATHENAEUM ENTERTAINMENT.

Last Friday evening the public was invited to attend an entertainment given by the smaller children who attend the school, in the study hall of the Athenaeum. It did not tend in a large body, and it is worth while to remark that some sort of a hitch in the proceedings which the management certainly could not have intended to be a part of the programme, kept the doors from being opened until five minutes before eight and consequently kept a large number of people waiting for a long time in the yard.

As a school exhibition the entertainment was a complete success and afforded very convincing testimony of the thoroughness of training the little ones receive. The programme was long and varied, being composed of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, declamations, etc., and everything was rendered without a single mistake or the least hesitation. Taken altogether, the entertainment was a very gratifying one to the managers of the school, to the little ones themselves and to their parents, who were the most interested listeners.

THE M'DOWELL SCHOOL.

The exercises last Friday, the last day of the term, brought a crowd of patrons and friends that more than filled the house; and all were well pleased. It was plain that both pupils and patrons were proud of their school, and that its teachers had done efficient work. Enough was shown here to emphasize again the wisdom of the course adopted by the school commissioners of the 9th district. It was clearly shown that one nine months school, as this has been, is worth more than a half a dozen schools lasting only three or four months.

The following was the programme:
Song—"Come, Come Away".....School.
Salutatory.....Owen Huckabee.
Concerted reading—"King Solomon and the Ants".....
Fifth and Sixth Grade Pupils.
Recitation—"Sambo's Lullaby".....
Emma McCall.
Finger Exercise.....Primary.
Speech—"A Mouse".....Ralph Burns.
Speech—"Rules for Boys".....
Charles Doty.
Speech—"Fate of Time".....Rexce Dooley.
Speech—"My Pony".....George Dooley.
The Cobbler.....Third Grade Girls.
Dialogue—"The Trials of a Poet".....
Choice of Trade.....Third Grade Boys.
Song—"Robin Roadbreast".....School.
—Prize Declamations.

PART I.

Poems and Theses.....Lloyd Burns.
The Bath of the Ould Squire.....
Spencer McCall.
Never Give Up.....Sam McGaw.
Arnold Winkler.....Clyde Latta.
Nathan Hale, the Martyr Spy.....
Ola Foxall.
Horatius at the Bridge.....John Johnston.
John Maynard.....James McGaw.
What is the Reason?.....Wallace Tucker.
The Baron's Last Banquet.....
Frank Borum.

PART II.

Song—"Robinson Crusoe".....School.
A Tiny Shoe.....Mary Lee Napier.
Only Waiting.....May Tucker.
A Telephone Message.....Daisy Erwin.
The Famine.....Mattie McGaw.
The Gypsy Flower-girl.....Emma Catina.
A Legend of Bregonze.....Carrie Dwire.
A Stick Doll.....Maud Burns.
The Easter Altar-cloth.....Maggie Hanson.

PART III.

Song—"Mountain Maid's Invitation".....School.
Essays—"Woman".....Mattie McGaw.
"Our Echoes".....Carrie Dwire.
Song—"Vacation Day".....School.

The speakers were contesting for medals offered by the commissioners, but both in speaking and in hearty applause of the judges' award, showed that these badges of honor were not the goals beyond which they could see nothing worth working for. They have been better taught, and know that to win a medal is not all of life; to miss it, not disgrace.

The boy's medal was given to Frank Borum and the girls to Miss Carrie Dwire.

Other medals were given by the teachers for special excellence, but the writer of this does not now remember all of these. Miss Addie Wood received two, one for perfect attendance and the other for good lessons; Lucile Wood, one for perfect attendance; and Cassie Chesley one for perfect deportment and good lessons.

Mr. J. C. Dexter's speech in awarding the medals was excellent. Mr. Moore advised him to hang out his shingle, and make such work his specialty.

The elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McLemore was thrown open to Columbia society on Monday evening, with a progressive euchre party. The entertainment was perfect in every detail. The splendidly furnished home was decorated in every possible place with cut flowers and ferns, and was brilliantly illuminated. It was regretted that Mr. McLemore was too ill to appear during the evening. Col. and Mrs. N. R. Wilkes received with Mrs. McLemore, in a cozy little reception room to the left of the entrance, and from thence the guests were ushered into the large double parlors, where the game was played. After a pleasant contest of two hours duration, the prizes were won by Miss Edwina James and Mr. J. W. Walker. Mr. Walker and Col. Wilkes tied, and the draw was in Mr. Walker's favor. Delicious refreshments were served after the game. Mrs. McLemore served as both host and hostess with remarkable grace. Her personal beauty was more admired than ever before, as she so gracefully and hospitably performed her duties of the evening in her own beautiful home. The evening was complimentary to Messrs. Moore, Edwards and Watts, of Union City, who were guests of Mr. McLemore. The following named were present and participated: Miss Olive Rogers, Mr. Moore, of Union City; Miss Mary Evans, Mr. Edwards, of Union City; Miss Minnie Holding, Mr. Watts, of Union City; Miss Katie Wilkes, Mr. James Smiser; Miss Mary Wilkes, Mr. J. H. Alexander; Miss Mary Cant, Mr. J. W. Walker; Miss Nettie Grant, Mr. Morgan Frierson; Miss Carter, Mr. Lee Epperson; Miss O. Ballentine, Mr. Fred Gamble; Miss Edwina James, Mr. R. G. Sparrow; Miss Minnie Foster, Mr. Perry, of Florida; Mrs. Will Morgan, Mr. E. S. Fowler; Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lander.

Mrs. Clawson entertained a few of her friends at tea last Friday night, to meet her friend, Miss Hunt, of Augusta, Ga.

On last Wednesday night Dr. John A. Witherspoon and his estimable lady entertained Misses Linda Frierson, Bessie Dale and Alice Dickson, and Drs. Hazel Padgett, J. D. Smith and P. H. Mangrum. The time passed most pleasantly until their fair hosts invited them out to tea, and there—well just imagine yourself seated at a table where everything that the most fastidious could desire, was set before you, and then you have only a small idea of the most excellent time these young people had.

New Barber Firm.

Mr. A. L. Armstrong and Mr. Shuneman, have formed a partnership and will continue the business of running a barber shop in Mr. Armstrong's present place of business. These two men are both first-class workmen, and are well known to the people of Columbia. They will make a strong team and do quick and satisfactory work. They expect to fit up a shop first-class in every particular, supplied with revolving automatic fans, and other late appliances to make their customers comfortable, while being shaved or having other work done. Those who want the skill and comfort that they get in the best city shops will call on Armstrong & Shuneman.

ADJUDGED A LUNATIC.

J. H. Andrews Has Been Sent to the Asylum at Nashville.

Some weeks ago, as we noted at the time, it was deemed prudent by the friends of J. H. Andrews that he be confined in the county jail. His actions were so peculiar that it was evident that he was either already insane or verging upon insanity, and it was feared that he might do either himself or some one else bodily harm. It was also thought that his condition might be caused, or aggravated by drinking. After a short time in jail he was taken home by his friends and received medical attention, instead of growing better, he became worse and finally failed to give any sign of recognizing his own relatives. It was therefore deemed proper to submit his case to a regularly constituted lunacy commission and act according to their decision.

A jury composed of the following gentlemen, was impaneled: H. B. Tate, M. Ruttle, J. J. Hendricks, O. C. Owen, J. B. Ashton, R. H. Guest, F. D. Chaffin, Ed. Green, D. A. Craig, J. Roenthal, J. P. Street, and Ed. McKennon. After taking the usual testimony and applying the usual tests this jury adjudged Mr. Andrews a lunatic and ordered that he be taken to the Asylum at Nashville. He was therefore taken to the asylum on last Tuesday by Sheriff Ragsdale, assisted by Ed. Green and his brother R. E. Andrews of Murfreesboro.
